To Spur a Jaded Appetite

Is one thing, to invigorate and regulate the digestive organs is another. And yet mere appetizers are constantly mistaken for and are even termed tonics. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is on a far higher plane in the category of medical preparations, than the so-called tonics which impart a relish for the food. These have their use and are estimable, provided they be pure. But the scope of the remedial operation of the latter is far wider. It reforms entirely an enfeebled condition of the stomach and purifies its juices. It vitalizes as well as promotes their secretion in a [illegible] at indance. The stomach having in conjunction with the liver and the bowels been regulated and their natural tone restored through its agency, appetite returns as a matter of course. Fever and ague, poverty of the blood, and consequent debility, rheumatic ailments and a tendency to kidney and bladder troubles, are also remedied by it.

The House Passes the Mexican Pension Bill.

PURCHASE OF LANDS IN ALASKA

Solicitor General Goode Before the Telephone Investigating Committee—Cabinet Changes Probable—Washington Notes

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—In the senate to-day George reported favorably from the committee on territories the bill to enable the Northwest Trading company, a private corporation organized under the general laws of Oregon, to purchase certain lands in the territory of Alaska. The committee [illegible] George [illegible] recommended indefinite postponement of the bill.

Dolph insisted that the bill be placed on the calendar. He had expected, he said, that debate on the bill would bring up the whole question of disposition of public lands in Alaska, and he still thought that the question was important for congress to look into and decide. Dolph thought the committee had given the bill slight consideration.

George said the committee had given the bill [illegible] as careful [illegible] as it was a very important bill.

At Dolph's request the bill was placed on the calendar.

Cameron offered a resolution, which was agreed to, appointing [illegible] Mitchell of Oregon, [illegible] the committee [illegible] library.

Blair [illegible] submitted a proposed amendment to the resolution heretofore introduced by him in relation to the executive session. The amendment recites specifically the material sought to be affected by the resolution. [illegible] to avoid a point of order on his resolution that it did not conform to the rules, which it proposed to amend. The amendment lies over under the rules, Blair saying he hoped to address the senate on the subject matter of the resolution Wednesday or Thursday next.

The army bill was then placed before the senate, the pending question being Hale's motion to strike out section 2, which provides that hereafter the army shall consist of 30,000 enlisted men. Plumb took the floor and continued his remarks in opposition to the bill.

Cockrell then took the floor in opposition to the army bill. There was, he said, no single power to protect our institutions without a single regular soldier. Our liberties did not depend upon a standing army, but on the patriotism of our citizens. We needed no standing army in this country. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. A standing army was a danger to our republic, and was in direct contravention of the republican system of government.

After an executive session the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—After the call of states for the introduction of bills the speaker announced unfinished business to be the motion to suspend the rules and pass the Mexican pension bill. It was agreed to—yeas 178, nays [illegible]

Following is the text of the bill: That the secretary of the interior be directed to place the names of all surviving officers, soldiers and sailors who enlisted and served in the war with Mexico for any period during the years 1846, 1847 and 1848, and were honorably discharged, and their surviving widows, on the pension roll at the rate of $8 per month from and after the passage of this act during their lives.

Section 2. That the secretary of the interior is directed to make such rules and regulations as are necessary to carry this act into effect, provided that where it shall appear that a discharge is lost secondary evidence may be permitted, and where it shall appear that any applicant has received a land warrant that shall be sufficient evidence of an honorable discharge, unless evidence shows that he procured it by fraud, and provided further that this act shall not apply to persons under political disabilities.

Laird of Nebraska moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill for relief of certain settlers and purchasers of lands on the public domain in the states of Nebraska and Kansas; agreed to. This is similar to the bill previously passed by the senate.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

PROBABLE CABINET CHANGES.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The Times's Washington special: The question is mooted how is the vacancy in the secretaryship of the treasury to be filled if Manning retires. The president is credited with a desire to put a New York man at the head of the department at all hazards. He seems unprepared, however, to repeat his mistake of a year ago and give New York two places in the cabinet. This being the case it is suggested that he will put Secretary Whitney at the head of the treasury and fill the vacancy thus created in the navy department by the selection of some Western man, though in so doing he must defeat the sectional claims from which the secretaries of the navy have been taken. Or it is said he might, without violating traditions, turn to the Pacific coast for his secretary of the navy. There is material enough in California. Either Gov. Stoneman, Col. Flournay, Frank G. Newlands or Mr. Dennis would be glad enough to be called into the cabinet. It is generally conceded that the secretary of the treasury, whoever he is, must have the support of Samuel J. Tilden. For this reason it is believed that Assistant Secretary Fairchild and Congressman Scott stand the chance of being chosen by the president, for both have the confidence of Tilden.

THE UNION PACIFIC'S STATE.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The Herald's Washington correspondent continues his criticism of the management of the Pacific railroads, and says President Adams produced such a bad impression upon the Pacific railroad committee by his manner, style and argument, that friends of the road will endeavor to keep him away from Washington. He declared that the branch lines are made contributively profitable at the expense of the Union Pacific proper, and adds: The managers of the road, without any warrant of law, guaranteed interest on the Oregon Short Line bonds, because they own nearly all of them, the total issue being $[illegible], and of this amount the Union Pacific and their friends own $[illegible]

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—At the request of Senator [illegible] the mail service will be restored from July 1 next to two trips a week on the route from Cherry Creek to Aurum, Nevada.

The senate confirmed W. L. Trenholm comptroller of the currency.

The secretary of the interior has denied the application of counsel for a rehearing in the celebrated [illegible] land grant case of New Mexico, and has directed the commissioner of the general land office to proceed to take proper action to carry out the secretary's orders regarding the local land office [illegible] of survey of the grant, that the same may be thrown open for settlement. About [illegible] acres are thus restored to the public domain.

FACE FROM [illegible]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The congressman who accompanied the body of Senator Miller to San Francisco returned to-day. Representative Mills [illegible] was one of the party, says the [illegible] the Chinese question [illegible] is in favor of stringent Chinese restriction [illegible] rights other citizens enjoy, that they are unfit [illegible] is a curse to any community where they congregate in large numbers. He said if Chinatown of San Francisco could be transplanted to Washington for even one day every member of congress would be found voting for a bill to forever prohibit their further importation.

[illegible] a call issued by a number of [illegible] of the state for the purpose of considering the propriety of organizing an association of [illegible] [illegible] persons assembled at the council chamber recently at 8 o'clock last evening.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. [illegible] Baker, who [illegible] W. H. Adams was chosen.

Mr. Baker was elected secretary.

After many of those present had given their views in regard to the objects of the organization the following gentlemen were appointed a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws and to recommend a general plan of organization: Geo. W. McBride, J. [illegible] Eastham, W. [illegible] Boise, A. [illegible] Armstrong, Wm. F. Mulhollan and E. B. Curry.

On motion the secretary prepared a document which was signed by all present (fifty-five), declaring in effect that the sense of the meeting was in favor of such an organization and promising to participate at a future meeting to consummate that end.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the mayor and common council for the use of the council chamber.

The meeting adjourned to meet next Monday night in this city, the place of meeting to be selected by the committee on constitution and by-laws.

THE TELEPHONE INVESTIGATION.

Solicitor General Goode Testifies before the House Committee

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Solicitor-General John Goode appeared before the telephone investigation committee this afternoon to tell what he knew of circumstances leading up to the institution of the Memphis suit. He said he had been appointed to his office by the president upon recommendation of Attorney General Garland, and he did not believe Senator Harris or Messrs. Atkins, Young and Johnston had anything to do with his appointment. The attorney general left Washington on Aug. [illegible] on his vacation and on September [illegible] he had received the application of District Attorney McCorry of Memphis for permission to bring a suit, which the witness had acted upon in a routine way. Attorney General Garland had never mentioned the Bell or the Pan Electric company to witness, or later his return from his vacation in October, when witness had introduced the subject, he having seen it mentioned in the public press. Witness did not know that Mr. Garland had an interest in the Pan Electric or any other telephone company until he saw newspaper publications.

[illegible] Senator Harris and Mr. [illegible] When Attorney General Garland returned [illegible] he told him that [illegible] had been made or any wrong done. This is a case brought some time ago. Haw[illegible], Oakley, Neppach and others started a paper mill at Bridal Veil falls three years ago. Business did not prosper very well, so the place was closed down and put in the hands of the sheriff. Wm. No Change in the Situation at Fort Worth.

JAY GOULD MAKES A STATEMENT

The Southern Roads Securing Control of the Pacific Mail—The Treasurer of the O. R. & N. Co. Drowned in England.

NEW YORK, April [illegible].—The following dispatch was received this morning at the office of the Missouri Pacific railway in this city:

FORT WORTH, April [illegible].—[illegible] prevails here this morning. Seven companies of state troops and one company of artillery have arrived from [illegible]. They moved [illegible] thirty-three trains south on the Missouri Pacific and two trains on the Texas & Pacific. No resistance was offered [illegible] country. A good many strikers have arrived at Fort Worth from other places.

The following dispatch was received this afternoon at the office of the Missouri Pacific railroad company, from St. Louis: There is nothing in the [illegible] from Fort Worth as to strikers [illegible] up railway tracks. The following has just been received from Fort Worth: At this hour [illegible] M. everything is quiet. Two trains have gone south this morning well guarded. There was no interference.

ARRIVAL OF [illegible]

ST. LOUIS, April [illegible].—A special from Fort Worth to the Globe-Democrat says: Gov. Ireland arrived [illegible] this morning from the capital of the state, and is here in consultation with [illegible] railway [illegible] and military commanders. When the [illegible] first stopped at Waco, it was here [illegible] several strikers mounted the engine and killed it. Another engine was procured and the train arrived this morning without further hindrance. Gov. Ireland said he was determined that the railway officers must be permitted to run their trains, even if it required the assistance of every [illegible] to accomplish this end.

[illegible] at this hour [illegible] [illegible] in the Missouri Pacific yards, and will [illegible] this afternoon under a heavy guard of militia.

A report that strikers had torn up a section of track further this city proved, upon investigation, [illegible] A box of dynamite cartridges, however, was found concealed in the Union depot.

AN [illegible] AFFAIRS.

NEW YORK, April [illegible].—[illegible] being interviewed yesterday Jay Gould said: The strike on our railroad is practically over. It will be a thing of the past very soon. The excitement of much of the [illegible] that have come through the [illegible], nothing has been more surprising than the proof I have had of the weakness of the Knights of Labor. [illegible] it was my apprehension as to the strength of the Knights of Labor, and so great was my fear of what might come from the fight, [illegible] that for over a year we have been carrying hundreds of men on the Missouri Pacific railroad's payroll, for whom we really had no need. We were paying their wages only because we were apprehensive of difficulties following a strike inaugurated by the Knights. Now we [illegible] that money spent in this way is practically wasted. We have no such thing to fear as we once had.

A STATEMENT [illegible]

Secretary Turner of the executive committee of the Knights of Labor having stated yesterday in St. Louis that Mr. Hoxie was not acting in conformity with the terms of the agreement entered into at the New York conference, Mr. Gould was to-day interviewed upon the subject and said: The stenographer's notes of the New York conference show that there was no agreement, direct or implied, that the company would take all the men back with some comparatively few exceptions. On the contrary, they show that not one of the committee expected the company to take back any men not needed, nor any who had had anything to do with damage to property of the company or obstruction to the running of its trains. Mr. Powderly said if the company would supply him with the names of those lawbreakers they would be expelled from the order. The whole committee was very positive that its orders to return to work would be generally obeyed, and asserted most positively that those who refused to obey its orders would [illegible] [illegible] the order and to use the words of one of the committee, "kept out of it forever."

AT ST. LOUIS

Freight Trains Sent Out without Trouble—Strike of Switch Engineers

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 5.—It was generally believed yesterday that to-day the freight blockade on this and the east side of the river would be raised and the resumption of traffic would be complete. The bridge and tunnel company yesterday announced that they would be ready to handle all business given them. A joint [illegible] agreed [illegible] held Saturday giving [illegible] until 10 o'clock to-day to return to work evidently had the desired effect, as the superintendents were notified yesterday by many of their former employes that they would be on hand to-day ready for duty. President [illegible] of the Wabash [illegible] also received an official notice from his employes that they would report for work in a body at the company's stable this morning. The striking Missouri Pacific Knights also intended to apply for positions to their former employers.

The formal retraction last night by the general executive committee of their order to Knights to return to work makes the outlook to-day less hopeful. The Missouri Pacific has already employed a sufficient number of new men to carry on its business, and the officers of that road anticipate no trouble in keeping the road open in spite of the renewal of the strike in East St. Louis. However the situation is changed for the worse for those who have already returned to work, as well as those who announced their intention of returning to-day are Knights and are subject to the orders of the executive committee.

The Iron Mountain road sent out five freight trains this morning and the Missouri Pacific an equal number. No opposition is being offered by the strikers. The resumption of freight traffic on these roads may now be considered complete, and the raising of the blockade on that branch of the company's business permanent.

THE [illegible] SENDING OUT TRAINS.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—Large crowds assembled this morning around the relay depot in East St. Louis, but were undemonstrative and offered no opposition to the making up and starting out of freight trains. The Ohio & Mississippi and the Indianapolis & St. L. sent out large trains loaded with freight, and the Vandalia, a train of thirty empties, no interference by the strikers being attempted in these cases. New switchmen and yardmen engaged since the strike are actively engaged making up trains and they will be sent out later in the day.

Thirty of the strikers on the Vandalia road applied to the foreman of the yards for work. While they were discussing the situation with the foreman they were approached by a delegation of Knights who persuaded them to withdraw their applications. A number of former employes of other roads also made applications for places vacated by them, but upon being informed by the committee of the action taken by the general executive board declined to do so.

Bridge and tunnel men who returned to work Saturday failed to report for duty in obedience to the order of the board.

A majority of the St. Louis transfer company's employes returned to work this morning, and are actively engaged in moving accumulated freight in East St. Louis.

A new development in the strike on the east side of the river, and one which occasioned considerable surprise and uneasiness among railway officials, occurred this morning when the Chicago & Alton switch engineers struck. They say they will not go back to work until the trouble between the railroads and their employes is settled, and feel confident that there are there who will support them.

THE RAILROAD WAR

The Atchison and Sunset Lines Secure Control of the Pacific Mail.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Rates will not be extended beyond to-morrow, was said at the Transcontinental offices to-day, but notice of an official kind has not yet been received declaring the war over. In railway circles it is generally believed, however, that the war is ended, and a rumor is in circulation that the delay in announcing that fact is occasioned by trouble experienced by the Atchison and Sunset in securing a controlling interest in the Pacific Mail. It is said that one of the points settled at the meeting in Huntington's house last week was that the Atchison and Sunset should generally buy Pacific Mail stock, and get control of the steamship company in order to settle the question of the subsidy to the Pacific Mail. It is stated that J. W. Seligman & Co., representatives of the Atchison, and C. P. Huntington have been buying Pacific Mail on the market for some time. It is also rumored that a meeting took place at the Hoffman house on Sunday, that C. P. Huntington, Sidney Dillon and Russell Sage were present, and that the meeting was had with reference to the Pacific Mail plan first mentioned.

It was said this afternoon that official announcement of peace would not be long delayed, because enough Pacific Mail stock has been secured to insure control, and after to-morrow the line would be in the direction of the two railroad lines.

NOTHING DEFINITE DECIDED.

NEW YORK, April 5.—So far as transcontinental affairs are concerned things are progressing toward a settlement, although nothing definite has been decided. Boston interests will meet again next week, and probably some complete understanding will be arrived at. The Pacific Mail people deny that they have made overtures to the competitive railroad lines. They state that any proposition for settlement of the difficulties must come from the parties who inaugurated the present fight. As far as they are concerned transcontinental matters are unchanged. They have been offered $60,000 per month but replied that they prefer not to have any contract, but to do their own business. It is estimated that the company would accept $85,000 or $90,000.

MAUD S.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—The Times prints an interview with W. W. Blair, who for eight years piloted the celebrated Maud S., in which he says: Maud S. is to-day the greatest trotting horse in the world. I doubt if the horse has been born yet that can beat her. She could have made more money for her owner than any horse that ever lived, but she always has been in bad hands for money making. None of her owners would ever allow her to make any money. During the time she was under my charge she never made a mistake, and never broke. She would try just as hard to win a race as any man would. Now she will be taken to Bonner's private track, where she will be worked quietly, and if she don't do better you will never hear of Maud S. again.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR AMERICA.

NEW YORK, April 5.—A private dispatch from London says that a Pekin dispatch states that England's refusal to cede Bhamo, or grant any territorial cession to Chinese which would bring the latter down to the Burmese plains, is seriously jeopardizing the English syndicate's chances respecting the Chinese loan and the building of railroads in China.

ALASKA SEAL CATCHING

The story goes that some poachers were fitting out in San Francisco to kill seals on the federal preserves in Alaskan waters. To warn all such parties Secretary Manning addressed the following note to Collector Hager:

MISS NARCISSA WHITE.

CORVALLIS, April 1.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Miss Narcissa White of Pennsylvania, national organizer of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, has been appointed to lecture in Portland April 11th. She returns about that time from a lecturing trip among the valley towns, and everywhere there is but one feeling respecting her powers. We women are charmed with her, and the men equally delighted. From one place, while the next says: "Never has a lecturer come to our place likely to do so much good. She charms all alike—high license, old fashioned license and prohibitionist." Another gives the reason why: "Her arguments resort [illegible] her eloquence inspiring, her [illegible] irresistible while her personal attractiveness [illegible] all."

In other [illegible] first to her being before [illegible] it is well to repeat the tale as told by Miss Willard as to what gave her the first impetus to this work. We told it was told to us how Narcissa White threw aside her already prepared graduating essay at the Edinboro Pa. State Normal school and wrote another on the subject which had stirred her heart. She had seen a poor gentle [illegible] woman leading her drunken husband through the snow, and had seen her felled to the earth by his brutal blows. She had read the cutting remarks of her city editor on the women who were trying to rescue such as them from the drink curse, and her whole soul boiled. Her new graduating essay was such a plea for the women crusaders as melted every heart and won every mind to her side. She began by fearing to speak it, graduating essays were always read in that conservative educational center, but the professor of rhetoric had encouraged her, and when it was over the dear old doctor of divinity, the friend of her childhood, and whose displeasure she had almost feared, took her by both hands and said: "God bless you, my child, that was well and bravely said." Now that we have Narcissa White in our midst, ten years later, to say things "bravely and well," let us bring all we can to hear her, and pray "God bless her coming." L. A. N.

PORTLAND, TUESDAY APRIL 6, 1886.

CUCKOO SOCIALISTS

The Rev Wm H Milburn, chaplain to congress, recently delivered a prayer, which was denounced by a member as unfit for the record because incendiary. Mr Milburn is not a socialist nor a communist; he is a warm hearted, impulsive man, who, like a far abler [illegible] the Rev Dr Howard Crosby of New York, grows so angry at real abuses that he talks wildly when he seeks for remedies. To illustrate, Dr Crosby recently wrote to a socialistic paper that "it is high time to devise a righteous plan to curb excessive wealth for the sake of the country's peace and prosperity." The N Y Sun keenly asked Dr Crosby, which [illegible] whether "he proposed to distribute all his property beyond his personal needs, to obey Christ by abjuring riches henceforth, and to take home to himself the lesson of the parable of Dives and Lazarus." The Sun pointed out that there was no middle ground between unlimited freedom of accumulation and communistic ownership; that if the state can forbid a man's owning more than a fixed sum it can forbid his owning any property at all. Dr Crosby answered that "a large part of the enormous wealth of corporations and individuals was made by lying and stealing," such as stock manipulation, stock watering, Credit Mobilier schemes, etc.

The evils described by Dr. Crosby are real, but they cannot be reached and corrected by statutes limiting the amount of wealth that any one man should be permitted to acquire. The law might attempt to stand between the people and the methods of individual and corporate piracy, but no government, in its effort to stand between the people and the abuse of the legitimate power of wealth, could limit the amount of wealth a man might honestly win and virtuously enjoy. To limit the abuse of the opportunity of organized wealth to oppress and rob the people is among the proper powers of government and is a very different thing from limiting the amount of money a man may acquire by effort or inheritance.

The state does not limit the number of horses a man may keep, but it does not permit the acquisition of horses by theft or fraud, or permit a man to use his horses recklessly to ride down his neighbors on the highway. So the state says "you may win all the wealth you can under the law, but if you forge your gold into a scourge for the backs of the people the law will take you by the collar."

It is time enough to invoke the power of the state against corporate or individual wealth when it becomes the public enemy of the peace and prosperity of the people. If it be argued that wealth needs watching, lest it combine to work evil to the primitive rights of man, to life, liberty, property and the pursuit of happiness, we answer that wealth no more needs watching than poverty. There is an honest and law-abiding poverty, and there is a dishonest and dangerous poverty, the poverty that plays cuckoo, stealing the shelter it is too lazy to contrive, and filling the air with mocking complaints. Your true socialist thinks, like the cuckoo, that all birds owe him a nest, because he is unable or unwilling to make a nest for himself. He has no nest; the world owes him a nest and a living, and therefore he will nest with his neighbor, and crowd the neighbor out, if he refuses to share or surrender his home. He will not strive or save, for he is a natural born sucker without the courage or sensibility that makes many men prefer the fate of a suicide to the shame of a sponge. Of course the cuckoo socialist, who thinks it right to divide the earnings of all men, who have property or earn wages, among the fellows who have nothing, not seldom follows out his logic to the extremity, and is ready to divide the wives of the married workers among the cuckoo communists who want a wife.

ORGANIZED IDLENESS

Unreasoning discontent, founded upon the idea that the lot of the workingman is in itself a grievance that demands redress, and that those who furnish employment whereby the laborer is enabled to make his living are his natural enemies, is taxing up a bill of costs against labor which it will be forced to toil many years to pay. It is estimated that there are now over 50,000 able-bodied men in the United States who are "out on strikes." In other words, that number of wage-earners who are, through the best season of year for work, and the most expensive for living, idle of their own choice. Organized idleness, at the very moderate estimate of $1 25 per day for each man, withholds from the pockets of those who refuse to work, and from the maintenance of perhaps three times that number, a sum aggregating at least $2,000,000 a month. Of the number of wage-earners, and those dependent upon them, who are indirectly affected by this organized idleness no appropriate estimate can be made. The great industries of the country are more or less dependent upon each other, and so serious a matter as the withdrawal of 50,000 men from the industrial life of the country must necessarily affect greatly many who are not active participants in strikes. The injustice and want inflicted by organized idleness, which claims justice as its moving power, is told in thousands of homes whose inmates are dependent for the ordinary comforts of life upon the daily earnings of labor. Men who are willing to work, who have no grievance against the lot of the workingman, and who find in home economy and individual sobriety such valuable auxiliaries to labor that increased pay is not an annual or quarterly necessity to meet bills, are forced to swell the catalogue of idle men by this tyrannical spirit of discontent that proposes by the very weight of its clamor to bend employer and fellow-laborer to its will.

As before said, the cost of this business to the wage earners of the country is enormous. The vast sum of money that is its direct loss each month represents its severest present stress, but what of the future? There is certainly little assurance of profit to capital seeking investment, in the record that organized idleness is making. Business men in all branches of trade are startled at the menace voiced by 50,000 unemployed men, and the well-grounded expectations of the revival of trade three months ago have been succeeded by doubt, that is the certain foe of investment. The extent of the losses to the business interests of the country is incalculable. The end of the strikes will be but the beginning of the adjustment of these lines, and working men will be ill able to bear their inevitable part. The actual loss of wages they will find it impossible, even if the strike is settled on the most favorable terms that they dare to hope, to make good, while depressed industry and cautious investment bid fair to circumscribe the bounds of employment to an extent that will make the supply of laborers for some time in excess of the demand for their services. Upon these things discontent fails to reckon when organizing idleness by ordering strikes.

HERON, MONTANA

The publishers of THE OREGONIAN have long experienced extreme difficulty in getting the paper delivered to subscribers at Heron, Montana. Either the paper is not carried there as directed, or is not delivered to subscribers there as directed. In the one case the fault would be with the railway mail service, in the other with the Heron postoffice. The attention of the postal authorities is hereby directed to this case, which is a peculiarly aggravated one and of long standing. What THE OREGONIAN wants to know and what its subscribers at Heron want to know is this, to-wit: Where and by whom is the package addressed to Heron violated, or how do its contents fail of delivery? This delinquency has become an intolerable outrage, and it must be corrected, and THE OREGONIAN hereby gives notice that it will follow the case up till it is corrected. To make sure that this number of the paper reaches its subscribers at Heron, a copy will be addressed to each one in a sealed envelope, letter postage paid. We want them to know that THE OREGONIAN is as much annoyed and outraged about the matter as they are, and that it means to have amendment, or to know the reason why.

CHICAGO AND ST LOUIS

Twenty years have wrought great changes at the West. Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo, Milwaukee have become as staid, even, and old [illegible] such eastern cities as Rochester, Syracuse, Utica, Lowell or Worcester. A New Englander now feels no distinctive [illegible] Western feeling short of Chicago, which is [illegible] the greatest illustration of the nervous energy of the American people. It still [illegible] unceasingly for Chicago. It takes its hat to itself; still thinks [illegible] a grander thing than all art galleries of Europe. It is a vast town rather than a city, with some of the rankest weeds of a great mining camp. And yet with all its crudeness, vulgarity and practical spirit, it better represents the best and the worst qualities of the American people than any Eastern city, not excepting New York. Chicago was fortunate in its founders as compared with St Louis. The hand of nature marked St Louis for the site of a great city, but her capitalists were of the variety of the sleepy southern type that neither care nor dare to pass a dollar from one hand to the other, lest it should be lost in the transit. The founders of Chicago planted their city at the mouth of a river that is to day nothing but a black ditch kept navigable by dredging, and yet, with no natural advantages compared with St Louis, superior brains and energy have made Chicago distance her great rival in the race for supremacy of the West. The war and the Pacific railways have done much for St Louis. The Missouri river has ceased to be of any consequence as a commercial feeder, and navigation of the Mississippi has dwindled down to insignificance, compared with the ante bellum days, but the railways that have absorbed all this traffic have more than made up to St. Louis for the extinction of the river trade. Nevertheless St. Louis has not been able to overtake Chicago. Chicago has maintained the lead she won before the war, a lead she won against an old city of splendid natural advantages, entirely because Chicago was built up by men who used their capital at every opportunity with the energy and audacity that compels success, when it comes at all, in trade or politics, in peace or war. May we suggest once more that here is a lesson for Portland? Without a public spirit no city can become great.

BROOM CORN

This is an article which Oregon might produce in abundance, yet does not. It is an article, too, for which there is usually a profitable market, and Oregon might even send broom-corn to the East. But instead of this our broom-makers are often obliged to send East for an article that should be a profitable crop here, both for home consumption and export. Yesterday a quantity of broom-corn, grown in Umatilla county, was sold in Portland at the rate of $202 per ton, or above 10 cents a pound. Here is a resource of which some of our agriculturists would do well to take note. Of course the market for broom-corn is not so extensive as to justify everybody in making this article a leading feature of their yearly crop, but certainly it may be produced with advantage at less than $100 per ton, and money if we had quantities of it a wider demand would be found than that of our own local market. This is one of many things that might be grown by our people upon a moderate scale, with profit to themselves. It should be the study of all to supply our own market with our own products, as far as it can be done, and there is no more reason why we should import broom corn than lumber, potatoes or firewood.

The efforts in Congress of that late demagogue, the professional "Soldier's Friend," further to extend the pension list are offensive to every intelligent and high minded veteran. A writer in the New York Sun comments on the fact that thousands of men who now claim or for a pension never saw a battle; they enlisted during the last eighteen months of the war to secure the large bounties, from $300 to $1200, paid by towns to fill their quota. These men were many of them shirks, thousands of them were bounty jumpers, and to these men, who suffered nothing in service, as a rule, beyond the injury described by the Irishman, who said that "in lepping the bounty I hurted me back," no pensions ever ought to be paid. The Sun writer thinks that only the drafted men and the volunteers are entitled to pensions, if crippled, otherwise not. The whole argument is in favor of the German system, which is based on the idea that the nation in a national emergency, is entitled to every citizen's life and property, and so in the German levy no man, high or low, can escape service by furnishing a substitute or paying commutation. The Sun closes its protest against our volunteer system by pointing out that our first call to arms was answered by 300,000 men, nine-tenths of whom were young and unmarried, the very class that a nation can least of all afford to lose. The next call gets stalwart 300,000 men of courage, largely married men. Then the government calls in vain for volunteers, the men of youth, soul and strength have all answered the call, and in the language of the Sun, leaves "the dastards, the shirks, and the sickly to stay at home and marry and beget children, and the nation suffers."

The logic of the anti Chinese party has never been equalled since human slavery was defended as the highest form of civilization that God intended for the negro. The Chinese were cursed because they came; they were cursed because they didn't come to stay; they were damned because they didn't go, and abused when they did go; they are denounced as dirty, and the Pacific coast employs thousands of them as house servants; they are called ignorant and degraded, and yet are described as so imitative and ingenious as to be dangerous competitors in the labor field; they are cursed for not becoming citizens, and then are cut off by law from naturalization; they are described as clannish and non-assimilative by critics who have invited assimilation with a club. This treatment of the Chinese stands for the old spirit toward the negro.

Another California girl is to create a society sensation by marrying abroad. An Italian baron, a captain in the Italian army, is to be the bridegroom, and Miss Emma Henston the bride. How must the hearts of California damsels, who see no titles in waiting for them, swell with envy as they read of the doings of my Lady Hesketh, who was one time Flora Sharon, and learn by a cable dispatch that Miss Henston, who is to be Baroness Brochetti, is a close friend of the Princess Colonna, known in California as Miss Eva Mackay.

De Lesseps makes to his stockholders a very sanguine report on the progress of the Panama canal. He declares that the excavation is proceeding satisfactorily, that the hitherto unruly Chagres river has been made to flow in the course destined for it, and that the two oceans will be connected in three years. All of which is interesting, as showing what diametrically opposite reports can be made on the same set of facts by different persons. De Lesseps is the only one who has been able to take so encouraging a view.

NOTES FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

[Correspondence of The Oregonian.]

WASHINGTON, March [illegible]

The following is the resolution [illegible] submitted by Mr Hermann relative to the Northern Pacific land grant forfeitures:

WHEREAS, There is a bill H R [illegible] now pending before this house for the forfeiture of all lands granted the Northern Pacific railroad lying west [illegible] ward of that portion of said road completed prior to July [illegible] and [illegible] that portion of the said [illegible] constructed after said [illegible] of all patents [illegible] and

WHEREAS, [illegible] as to the power of congress [illegible] said grant [illegible] road after [illegible] the default [illegible] postpone [illegible] portion of [illegible] grant entered [illegible]

WHEREAS, A [illegible] is now pending before this house [illegible] of said grant [illegible] to that part of [illegible] from Wallula [illegible] Portland [illegible] of Oregon [illegible] which [illegible] as to the power or policy of congress to [illegible] along which line no road has ever been constructed or [illegible] commenced [illegible] said lands [illegible] under any interpretation of said grant; and

WHEREAS, Large numbers of people are settled [illegible] many portions of said grant and are making bona fide homes thereon, and many others desire to settle upon the remainder now unoccupied, and there exists much [illegible] among said people as to the probable further delay of congress in declaring forfeiture of said unearned lands between Wallula and Portland, and they desire the passage of said bill H R [illegible] now pending for that purpose; and

WHEREAS, The settlement and development of said immense domain is retarded and great public injury produced by delay in the forfeiture of said unearned lands; therefore be it

Resolved, That the committee on the public lands be and they are hereby instructed to report house bill 4223.

VARIOUS MEASURES AND PROPOSITIONS

Senator Dolph has submitted to the commerce committee for consideration a bill authorizing the county of Clatsop to construct a foot passenger, carriage or railroad bridge across Young's bay from the mainland on the south bank of the Columbia river, below Astoria at such point as may be selected by the county between Smith's Point and the mouth of Young's river, thence directly across Young's bay to the mainland, and also to construct a bridge across Skipanon creek by permanent embankment or otherwise as the secretary of war may approve, the bridge to be built under the supervision of the secretary of war.

The law now provides that the clerks of the circuit and district courts in Oregon shall be allowed double fees. This having been called to the attention of the judiciary committee they investigated the matter and have accordingly come to the conclusion that "whatever reasons once existed for the additional allowances to clerks of these courts have ceased to exist." It is recommended therefore that the law be repealed.

The committee on territories have favorably considered the bill to change the time of the meeting of the legislative assembly of Washington. The first Monday in January [illegible] is fixed as the time for the commencement of the next general session of the assembly, which shall be held every two years thereafter.

The committee also recommend that a bill be passed allowing Columbia county to issue its bonds payable in not less than five nor more than [illegible] years at eight per cent per annum to the amount of $40,000 for the purpose of building a county court house.

Senator Dolph has before the committee on public lands a measure to continue in force until January 1 1887 the provisions of the act of January 1 8[illegible] permitting settlers upon railroad lands forfeited by said act not entitled to enter as a [illegible] such land under the homestead or pre-emption laws, within one year after the passage of that act, to purchase not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres of the same at the price of $1 [illegible] per acre; provided that the term "settlers" as used in the act shall be construed so as to include private corporations which at the time of the passage of said act had made valuable improvements upon and was occupying of said lands.

TAXES FOR ALASKA

The senate is also [illegible] with the judiciary committee a measure to [illegible] the administration of the laws in Alaska. It directs that all bonds to officers of the United States serving and [illegible] in Alaska may be executed in such states or districts as the president may from time to time direct.

That the governor of the judicial district of Alaska shall be ex officio superintendent of public [illegible] United States disbursing officer for Indian schools and Indian affairs in the district, and for such additional services shall receive $[illegible].

That the civil officers appointed by the president shall receive the actual cost of their individual expenses in reaching Sitka.

LIMITING THE POWERS OF TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURES

The committee on territories are considering a measure to amend the law relating to the legislative assemblies of territories creating corporations so that it will hereafter provide that such legislative assemblies shall not grant private charters or special privileges but they may by general incorporative acts permit persons to associate themselves together as bodies corporate for mining, manufacturing, and other industrial commercial, financial or business pursuits, or for carrying on the business of life, accident or fire insurance, or for the construction and operation of railroads, street railways, wagon roads, irrigating ditches, and the colonization and improvement of lands in connection therewith, or for colleges, seminaries, churches, libraries or for any benevolent charitable or scientific association.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

The statement of the postmaster general giving the list of removals made in postoffices of the fourth class since March 4 1885 shows that the number of such removals in Oregon has been thirty four, and in Washington twenty five. This does not include all changes, however, such as where commissions have expired and the like.

A statement prepared by the commissioner of the land office gives $4[illegible] 00 as the amount of money received by Oregon from the net proceeds of the cash sales of public lands.

Senator Dolph has prepared a bill to enable the Northwest Trading company, a private corporation, organized under the general laws of Oregon to purchase certain lands in Alaska. It provides that the company be authorized to purchase tracts of land which are now and have been for the past three years in possession of said company and used by it in canning and curing fish, and for manufacturing oil from the fish taken in the adjacent waters. The purchase is to extend to [illegible] acres in each of the harbors of Killisnoo, Chilcat and Pyramid [illegible] and the price is to be $5 an acre; the purchase not to include lands containing coal or the precious [illegible] unless otherwise than is provided by law.

In the committee on finance there is a measure also prepared by the senator providing that three fifths of the reserve of [illegible] per cent required to be held by national banks may consist of [illegible] deposit [illegible] association available for the redemption of its circulating notes from associations approved by the comptroller of currency doing business in Portland and other cities named [illegible] in Oregon [illegible] clearing house certificates representing specie or lawful money specially deposited for the purpose of any clearing house association shall also be deemed to be lawful money in the possession of any association belonging to such clearing house holding and owning such certificate for the purposes [illegible]

BOGUS BUTTER

PORTLAND April [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I was surprised [illegible] that you had extracted an item from the Rural Spirit in regard to imitation butter being shipped here from California and sold [illegible] article. And I see that you have submitted a few of your views in regard to the matter.

I regard the manufacture of imitation butter as a conspiracy even if it be marked by the man that [illegible] its identity or true character [illegible] those who [illegible] must be [illegible] by innocent people [illegible] with instructions [illegible] [illegible] spurious butter [illegible] business [illegible] kindly by telling them that I had information that large amounts of imitations were being shipped westward from Chicago. Chicago is the city where smothered cattle and hogs are being worked into imitation butter and put into cases (not tubs or firkins) and branded "White Clover Butter," "Creamery Butter" or any other brand that will sell. The almost universal reply to my kindness is "If I don't know it is imitation I am not to blame."

As regards the case referred to in the Rural Spirit and to which you call attention I have to say that I should have caused the arrest of the party last Monday, but I received word of the presence of bogus butter in Huntington, Baker county, and started there Tuesday. And to explain to those who are interested in the matter is why I did not cause the arrest referred to. I inserted in the Spirit the item you reprinted.

Now that this matter has got prominently before the public through your columns permit me to add that I believe commission merchants here should know what kind of butter they deal in, and not try to screen themselves by a plea of ignorance. Good butter is worth [illegible] cents in California and has been for several months. If the California butter is good, why doesn't it go East in place of being shipped here at a figure that it can be sold for 2[illegible] cents a pound in this city? There is plenty of good Oregon butter here for 2[illegible] cents. Why not buy it? No, sir, the very men who are kicking say California butter is the best and most of them say "It is better than Oregon butter." If it is not [illegible] The party referred to in the Rural Spirit will be examined to-morrow [illegible] at 2 P M before Justice Davis.

Protection in the South

Atlanta Constitution D[illegible]

The protective tariff has not failed to build up home markets for the Northern and Western farmers, and we may reasonably expect it to do the same for the South. We may be very sure that the industries of the South cannot be built up without protection, and that they are not built up the Southern farmer will be no better off fifty years hence than he is to-day.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

[illegible] MADDEN MINER. Yesterday aft[illegible] [illegible] was considerably interested [illegible] this state under [illegible] [illegible] Comstock, who [illegible] [illegible] with Comstock when [illegible] [illegible] as [illegible] the sixteen [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the fact that Mr. Comstock [illegible] years ago [illegible] Montana [illegible] Dan [illegible] [illegible] mining [illegible] [illegible] resided [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] was the original Comstock [illegible] well [illegible] with W. S. [illegible] [illegible] associated in mining [illegible] [illegible] White [illegible] steam [illegible] Wilson [illegible] [illegible] many years ago in [illegible] Kansas [illegible] He was not at home to settle his [illegible] parties who had called on him having [illegible] somewhat [illegible] [illegible] in his well supplied with [illegible] checks and is making preparations to develop his Clackamas county mine. Mr. Comstock will confer a favor by calling at this office and giving an account of himself. If he did not die in Montana, as Dan DeQuille reported, the public would like to know it, and it he did, he they would be still more interested in knowing where he has been since and why he has once more revisited the pale glimpses of the morn.

WHEELMEN AT THE PAVILION. — The bicycle tournament at the Pavilion last night was not as much of a success financially as it ought to have been, however, the seats were mostly taken and a very interesting programme was given. The [illegible] drill of six picked riders in flaming red suits with calcium effects was very pleasing, showing considerable skill in the handling of the machines and much practice. The first race was a 40 yard slow race, three starters, won by George Breck, time 1 0 [illegible]. Second race, five mile handicap, four starters, two Stars and two ordinary bicycles used, and was won by Kiel, time 18:32. Third race, half mile foot race, eight entries, six starters, won with great ease by Knapp, time [illegible]. Prof. Demars then gave an exhibition on roller skates, the most commendable feature of which was his table act. An exhibition race followed with two starters. Merrill won by a short length, time [illegible]. The mile race with nine starters was won by Kiel. As there was only one entry for the five mile state championship race open to all amateurs, it was not run. Then Messrs. Breck, Hutchins and Merrill gave a very neat exhibition of fancy riding. Messrs. Breck and Merrill were as always very good. Master Hutchins, on his Star bicycle, showed himself a very clever rider and as [illegible] of a flooded colt, he is a very promising youngster. The one mile race, with no hands, with two starters, was won by Breck — [illegible] but Merrill gave him one lap allowance [illegible] being [illegible] The last race on the programme was a four lap run and ride race, and was intensely interesting, with only two starters. Knapp won — [illegible] but up to the last moment Hutchins stood a good chance. The Sterling band discoursed very acceptably the stirring airs one always hears at the race track.

TROUBLE OVER OPERA COSTUMES. — Last week Wells, Fargo & Co. brought suit in the circuit court against W. A. Thompson, the manager of the Thompson opera company, to recover $1 5[illegible]. This sum they alleged they paid to [illegible] John & Son, costumers of San Francisco, for wardrobes sent here to be used in the production of "Iolanthe." Thompson was not satisfied with what was sent him, so he paid the express charges and returned the costumes, paying the bill for sending them back to the city. In pursuance of the suit instituted by the express company, the sheriff seized a lot of costumes in the possession of A. W. F. MacCollin of the Casino opera house, supposed to be owned by Mr. Thompson. [illegible] doing, Mr. MacCollin yesterday had Deputy Sheriff [illegible] arrested on a warrant issued from the police court on a charge of grand larceny. Mr. MacCollin claims that the sheriff did not file the bonds usual in such cases, but simply "seized, took and carried away" the costumes, as any private citizen would who had no authority to do so. The costumes, which had been stored at the central wharf, foot of Washington street, were, after rather an amusing scene, captured by policemen Barry and Simmons, armed with a search warrant, and taken to the city jail. The whole subject matter will come up for adjudication in the police court. The wardrobe attached by the sheriff is valued at $1600. Mr. Thompson, according to all accounts, disclaims having any control over them.

THE MANY ALIASED SWINDLER AT MONTEREY. — It seems quite certain that Viscount Dunbar, alias Lord Douglass, alias several other nobles of England, who swindled gentlemen in Southern Oregon and skipped from this town leaving unpaid hotel bills behind him, is now doing the fashionable California watering places. A gentleman who returned here a few days since saw him at Santa Barbara about the 2[illegible] of last month, and Capt. B. De Morainville, a very distinguished French engineer officer, now in San Francisco, writes to a friend here, under date of March [illegible], that the notorious "Lord" Douglass has fastened his tentacles upon a plutocratic young Virginian having an income of about $60,000 per annum, the former of course giving his own income from Utopian estates at fabulous figures. The two are now at Monterey. It is to be hoped that the Lord's Arcadian existence in this instance may be brief, as the captain's friend here has advised him of the swindles perpetrated in this state by Douglas Dunbar or whatever else the scoundrel chooses to call himself. He is bound to reach the end of his rope before long, as he has been heard of in England, a London paper not long since reporting that a fellow styling himself Viscount Dunbar had been swindling people in America. His stay was made brief in the Northwest, and he will do well to leave the coast in a hurry.

TWO UNSUCCESSFUL STRIKES. — The mania for striking has struck this city, but in a mild form and it does not appear to be a success here. Some of the workmen in [illegible] & Hoelbing's cracker factory struck a short time since. There was no fault found with the wages paid them, but because a boy who did not do his work in a satisfactory manner was discharged, a lot of the workmen struck, and demanded that the boy be put at work again. To quiet matters for the time being the boy was reinstated. The strikers then demanded that the foreman of the department where the boy worked be discharged. The proprietors, after thinking over the matter, concluded that as they furnished the capital to run the concern and paid the wages, they were running the bakery. So they informed as much to the workmen and those who were not willing to go to work on that understanding were paid off and their places supplied by other men. The next strike was that of the hod carriers on [illegible] against Canuto & Zanello. They had no fault to find with their wages, being paid $2.50 per day, which is pretty fair pay for unskilled labor. But they struck in order to oblige their employers to discharge some men who did not belong to their union. They were paid off and their places promptly supplied by men who wanted to work for the wages they would get and would allow their [illegible] to run their own business.

DESTRUCTIVE ANIMALS NEAR HOME. — Coyotes seem to be surrounding Hillsboro, and unless the scalp hunters get away with them the [illegible] warning of "Coost [illegible] there's coyotes around" will come in vogue again. A night or two since Dr. Cardwell, who has a place on the hills west of the city, heard his watch dog barking at midnight, and on rising and looking out of the window in the morning he saw his faithful dog sitting [illegible] watching a coyote which was [illegible] cooper [illegible] the dog had tried all night to catch the coyote, but had [illegible] out of the surrounding [illegible] still on guard and ready to make a dash at the rascal if he attempted to approach the barn or house or pigpen. Mr. Cardwell had no gun in the house or he could easily have shot at the coyote. It looks as if Multnomah county would soon have to place a bounty on coyote scalps. A gentleman who is informed in the ways of these vermin states that as the woods give way farms and sheep, pigs and other food become more plentiful, coyotes increase, but of course when the woods are so far gone as to afford no shelter for the coyotes they disappear.

SAYING GOOD BYE. — The rooms of the Portland Art club were the scene of a very jolly little party last evening. It was in honor of Edward Espey, who leaves on Sunday next for Paris to continue his art studies. The easels of the [illegible] were decorated with charcoal sketches of Mr. Espey, the center one being draped in mock mourning as a token of the grief of the other members at his temporary loss. They were consoled by the thought that their loss would be his gain and kept up their spirits by eating, drinking and smoking in true Bohemian style. Mr. Espey resigned his position as treasurer of the club — that was all there was connected with it to resign. There being no particular need of a successor, the club elected Cooke chaplain, a very wise move, as they are likely to need consolation. Stuart has flitted. Espey is on the wing, and Rockwell expects to receive marching orders soon and to put in the summer at surveying our beautiful coast line. Brown will hold the fort, and it will be in hope of a happy reunion next fall.

FINE PAINTING. — Mr. G. L. Brown, the artist, has on exhibition at Sanborn & Vail's First street an excellent reproduction of the composition entitled "Light and Shadow," which gave him the vote of honor of the Portland art club upon the presentation of the above subject. Mr. Brown has reproduced in his last picture the general tone and effect of the club sketch with a more thorough rendering of detail, which adds much to the subject as a finished picture. One looks from the deep somber shadow of a giant redwood forest upon an orange and purple sunset sky which only California can produce. The picture, excellent in its breadth of treatment and simplicity, indicates a desire of the artist to depart from the conventionality of Oregon landscape painting to artistic effect and simplicity.

TO VISIT SIMILKAMEEN MINE. — Mr. George W. Small, a mining expert, leaves this morning for the Similkameen mining district. Mr. Small has had a vast experience in his profession and is one of the few men who combine a thorough education and practical experience. He is a graduate of the university of Heidelberg, and has had a vast amount of experience in mines of Colorado, Nevada, and in fact all of the mining countries in the West. Mr. Small goes to the Washington mines in the interest of several very prominent Portland capitalists, who contemplate investing to a large amount if Mr. Small reports favorably.

COUNTY DEMOCRACY. — The new delegates of the county democracy met last evening for the purpose of electing new officers for the ensuing two years. A large number were in attendance and much interest was manifested in the proceedings. Many nominations were made [illegible] [illegible] W. D. [illegible] [illegible] Wiley [illegible] [illegible] After much discussion [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Thursday [illegible]

[illegible] SULLIVAN [illegible] [illegible] Myers of Ashland [illegible] [illegible] Miss C[illegible] Mr. My[illegible] [illegible] and Mr. [illegible] [illegible] They are a perfect match [illegible] [illegible]

HUNT FOR COUGAR. — Walter M[illegible] clerk of department No. [illegible] went on a hunting trip last week [illegible] Walter and Ordy and Clarence [illegible] hunting and fishing [illegible] Thursday afternoon. The Garrison boys separated and immediately afterward [illegible] two shots and thought [illegible] a bear. On arriving on the scene he witnessed Ordy in the act of pulling a large cougar out of a hole. Ordy had shot the beast between the eyes and had then sent a second bullet to its brain about half an inch below where the first had entered. Young Garrison was armed with a Winchester rifle, and was about twenty feet away when he fired the shots. The cougar was of enormous size, weighing about 400 pounds and measuring seven feet two inches in length.

CURIOUS FISH. — A lot of singular looking fish, or rather the skins of fish called sea hedgehogs, which were brought here by some sea captains, were exhibited at Mularkey's market yesterday. They are [illegible] in shape and covered with sharp spines about an inch in length. As a spectator remarked, if a fellow should swallow one of them when it was collapsed and then it should swell out, the effect could not fail to be startling. But the most singular looking thing in the collection is the sea parrot. The body is oval in shape, covered with small prickles, and the mouth furnished with a stout bill much like that of a parrot. These things are among the wonders seen by those who go down to the sea in ships and they attract much attention from those who prefer to stay on the land.

TEAM OVERBOARD. — About [illegible] o'clock yesterday afternoon a team belonging to Thomas Galvin, an expressman of this city, ran into the river at the east side incline of the Jefferson street ferry. They were standing at the head of the incline behind a load of lumber waiting for the boat to come over, when all of a sudden they started and ran without stopping into the river. By quick work and with some assistance Galvin managed to cut the harness and rescue one of the horses, but the other [illegible] was drowned. The wagon was also recovered.

FRENCH BENEVOLENT SOCIETY. — At a recent meeting of the French residents of this city held at [illegible] hall, a mutual benevolent society was organized under the name of [illegible] [illegible] Fraternelle [illegible] Française. The following officers were elected: President, M. [illegible]; vice president, J. Vandé; treasurer, A. [illegible]; secretary, [illegible] Jr. There are nearly forty members, and there is no doubt that it will become one of the permanent and useful institutions of Portland.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS. — Last night the board of police commissioners held a regular meeting, [illegible] absent. No business was transacted except allowing the following bills: Pay roll for month [illegible]; S. B. Parrish, costs case of [illegible]; [illegible] gas company $10[illegible]; [illegible] Bros. $[illegible]; Williams & Elliott $1[illegible]; Russell & Co. $1[illegible]; J. Johnson, $1[illegible]; Multnomah [illegible] company $1[illegible]; secret detective service $[illegible]; Jackson & Co. $[illegible]; Lewiston $[illegible].

DISCHARGED. — Justice [illegible] of the Peace [illegible] yesterday made an order in the case of John Kutzdebler, accused of arson in setting fire to [illegible] Taylor's place on the east side, discharging him from custody. The evidence submitted was not considered sufficient. [illegible] is also charged with stealing a set of harness belonging to Taylor. This he says was given to his brother from [illegible] a man named Sleigh, and that it finally came into his possession on a trade.

ANOTHER AGITATOR ARRESTED. — [illegible] Pulse John W. Gilson is now in the same boat with Nat Baker, Al White and the other Chinese rioters. Last night Gilson was sleeping the sleep of the innocent in the county jail in default of $5000 bonds. The cause of all this is that Gilson was run in by Deputy U. S. Marshal Smith. The warrant reads that Gilson conspired by force to hinder and delay the laws of the United States.

NEW FOG SIGNAL. — Capt. Charles F. Powell, U. S. engineer, has advertised for bids for two buildings to be constructed at West point, on Puget sound, six miles below Seattle. One of the buildings is for a residence for the light-keeper and the other for a Daboll trumpet. This will replace the fog bell now doing service during thick weather. The machinery is being manufactured in the East.

MILITIA MUSTER AND ELECTION. — Last night the newly organized company K, First regiment, Oregon State militia, met for the purpose of electing officers. The ballot resulted in the following choice: Captain, F. H. Merrill; first lieutenant, C. L. Beebe; second lieutenant, J. W. C[illegible] Conrad. There were present [illegible] members and they were mustered in by Maj. H. H. Northup.

INDIAN FIGHT AT THE CASCADES. — Those who are going on the excursion to the Cascade locks Saturday, the [illegible]th, on the Wide West, will pass right through the scene of the Indian fight with Phil Sheridan in 1856 at the Cascades, described in a four column article in THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN. Get a copy and take with you.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY. — This afternoon the Ladies' Relief society will hold its annual meeting in the vestry room of the First Presbyterian church. As some by-laws come up for amendment as well as other important business, a full attendance is particularly desired.

THE STAGE.

THE CASINO. — The Thompson opera company gave their first performance in Portland of Gilbert and Sullivan's opera "The Pirates of Penzance" last evening to a large and appreciative audience, and it can be said with truth that it was a brilliant success. The opera itself is as familiar as its predecessor in the order of composition, "Pinafore," and has been produced here on several occasions, always being well received. Last night's performance was an additional evidence of the merits of the Thompson company both as to individual and general ensemble work. While there might have been some improvement in the casting of the opera, the work of the principals was generally so good as to render close criticism superfluous. The chorus for seemed in fine voice and rendered their score with fidelity and most tuneful effect. Miss Godfrey scored a brilliant triumph as Mabel. We had some doubts as to her ability to cope successfully with the music of the part, but as she rolled off the florid notes of her first solo, "Poor Wandering One," these doubts were quickly dispelled, and as she finished she was greeted with a tremendous round of applause, [illegible] compelled to respond to an encore. The usual florid flattering [illegible] promptly [illegible] right [illegible] [illegible] Miss Godfrey's rendering [illegible] the encore [illegible] was as artistic a piece of vocal work as she has yet done, and earned her a hearty recall. Mr. Branson's Frederick was admirably done as to acting and singing, but he has a very bad habit of speaking his lines so rapidly that the sense and effect are completely lost. By a little effort he could easily overcome this fault and add greatly to the effectiveness of his work. Mr. Seaman's "Pirate Chief" was not as good as it might have been. His singing of "I Am a Pirate King" lacked force and the bravura quality which is so essential to its effective rendering. In make up and action, however, he was good. Mr. Murray's fine voice could have been heard to greater advantage as the sergeant of police, but even in the comparatively insignificant role of Samuel the audience recognized its rich tones and loudly reminded the [illegible] [illegible] in the second act. Mr. MacCollin's major general was fairly done and well received. His singing of the patter song and that exquisite [illegible] "Softly Sighing to the Breezes" was all that could be wished. Mr. [illegible]'s sergeant of police, while an earnest and conscientious performance, could have been improved upon. There is no necessity for the assumption of lameness in his walk, and one can hardly imagine that a man with such a physical defect would be retained on any well regulated police force. The Ruth of Miss H[illegible] was well done, though the part requires a contralto rather than a soprano voice, and a strong one at that. Miss Vining as Edith, Miss Branson as Kate and Miss Gillis as Isabel looked and acted with grace and naïveté. The choruses were particularly well given, especially the choral "Hail Poetry," the policemen's chorus and the female chorus in the first act. Too much praise cannot be given to the mounting and costuming of the opera. The chapel scene was a most beautiful one, the calcium making a splendid effect at the back.

The "Pirates" Tuesday, Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday nights. On Thursday and Friday the company play in Astoria.

THE NEW MARKET. — Anna Eva Fay and Prof. and Madame Steen gave another exhibition last night. The mind reading of Madame Steen, or whatever else it may be called, is simply astonishing, and no one in these parts is able to give anything like a reasonable explanation of the mystery. Today the party leave for Victoria.

AMUSEMENTS. — The Tivoli presents this week a Mark Grayson, a new candidate for honors. He is reported to be first-class in sensational dramas. The variety part is entirely changed. Manager Clinton is doing his best to please.

PERSONAL.

Mr. A. J. Megler, mine host of the Occident, Astoria, and wife are at the St. Charles.

Miss Mary Kenneally has just returned to Portland from Ireland, where she has been visiting relatives for the past seven months.

ARRESTED FOR PERJURY.

Walter Keyes Beaten in a Suit for Damages against a Stage Company and Arrested for False Swearing.

[illegible] Walter A. Keyes [illegible] was thrown from a stage on the [illegible] Yakima and Ellensburg, and claimed that by reason [illegible] accident [illegible] was ruptured [illegible] He therefore brought suit against Wm. D. [illegible], proprietor of the stage line [illegible] was tried last week [illegible] [illegible] very short deliberation, [illegible] verdict in favor of the defendant. Keyes [illegible] [illegible] in the New Market [illegible] as manager of [illegible] [illegible] Smith [illegible] was about $3000.

[illegible] Keyes has been ruptured for years [illegible] of the stage [illegible] him [illegible] money out of [illegible] [illegible] of this city was [illegible] witness. He testified that he had treated Keyes for rupture three years ago, but his testimony was thrown out because the statutes of Washington territory provide that a regular physician or surgeon shall not be required to testify in a civil suit as to any information acquired in attending a patient without the consent of the patient. Here an [illegible] the defense raised the point that it was not the intent of the statute to shut out the testimony of a physician who should be [illegible] allowed to testify as to a physical fact such as the breaking of a leg, in which no confidential information from the patient. The court ruled that the provision of the code does not relate solely to information imparted by a patient orally, but applies to all information acquired by observation as well.

Several [illegible] testified that Keyes had told them [illegible] before the accident that he was ruptured. When Keyes was recalled he was foolish enough to swear that he had never known and was never treated by Dr. Diedrich. The grand jury was in session and immediately indicted Keyes for perjury. He was placed under $500 bonds, which he furnished and will be tried at the next term of court.

THE P. R. A.

Annual Meeting of the Association. Election of Directors — President's Report.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Portland Rowing association was held last evening. The attendance was much larger than usual, there being [illegible] shares of stock present and voting. Under the new constitution no stock can be voted except by the owners and holders thereof, no proxies were received.

The balloting resulted in the reelection of the old board with two exceptions, namely, Mr. Gould and Mr. Swigert, whose duties are such that they could not accept office, and two new members were chosen in their stead. The gentlemen elected and who will compose the board of directors for the ensuing year are Messrs. Hawkins, Bryan, [illegible] Strong, A. S. Whitney, F. R. Stoddard, F. M. Ar[illegible], J. Brooke White, John Campbell and James [illegible].

The president, Mr. Stoddard, made a report of the general condition of the club, and from his report we gather that the Portland Rowing association is in a more prosperous condition than at the present time. Under the management of the present board of directors the property and membership of the club have continually increased, and the debt of over $[illegible] which was handed down to them has been reduced to about $[illegible]. Several new names have already been proposed for membership, and the added facilities and conveniences for the new [illegible] now being built will undoubtedly increase the activity [illegible] [illegible] before the close of the season. He thought [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and hoped that during the coming summer it should have a regatta on the Willamette, open to all amateur oarsmen as well as the [illegible] mountains.

In conclusion he called the attention of the stockholders to the indebtedness incurred in building the new boat house and to the importance of its early payment, and to that end asked that every individual member exert himself.

Mr. Arthur, the treasurer, made a complete report of the receipts and disbursements of the year and closed by showing that its condition is financially sound.

Mr. White was nominated as captain, but declined to serve another year, so the matter of selecting a captain was referred to the directors.

COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, April 5.

Weather clear and warm. Merchandise arrivals by rail continue to be heavy, but there is very little going out. Two shipments of new pack salmon are noted, one going to New York and one to San Francisco. A New York advice says the interior demand has been much better than early in the year and Columbia river is held at $1 50@1 [illegible]. Boomers of the market are still busy and New York has sent by telegraph to this coast a rehash of the reports circulated here. Buyers are not taking hold and show but little real interest at present. On river $1 05@1 0[illegible] would be the [illegible] obtainable extremes for best brands.

A retail grocer was arrested to-day at the instance of the state dairy commission upon a charge of selling or having for sale a quantity of what is commonly termed bogus butter. The commissioner has said that he believes some of the butter received from California is of Eastern manufacture, boxed and sold by San Francisco dealers as fresh roll butter. In the [illegible] the offense consists of handling butter purporting to come from Purdell's dairy near Point Reyes, the brand being star T. This brand has long enjoyed an excellent reputation and brings a better price than [illegible] ordinary California roll. Dealers here who have handled it say that it is not pure and so telegraphed their San Francisco shippers. A reply was received stating that ample evidence [illegible] will be forwarded when necessary. San Francisco has a dairy exchange and [illegible] California has strict laws regulating the sale of manufactured butter. In so flagrant a case as the one now brought up should escape notice there is [illegible] plaint is well grounded. Purdell does not run a large dairy and his product sells readily in San Francisco over choice brands, one dealer here paying one cent more for it than any other brand handled. Another city grocer whose reputation as a butter sharp along the street is extensive favors this particular [illegible] he will hear [illegible].

EGGS—Firmer under lessened arrivals and reduced stocks. Dealers asking 2[illegible].

CHICKENS—Steady at old prices.

A YEAR'S SALMON SHIPMENTS

The outward salmon movement for the twelve months ended with March 31 and virtually representing the 1885 pack is as below indicated. With the close of the 1884 season the total over quantity was less than [illegible]000 cases and this quantity is now on river certainly does not exceed the same figure. [illegible] shipped in the past twelve months were spring pack [illegible] the last days a [illegible] quantity of what is known as fall pack went east. This would [illegible] no great figure in the entire whole even were the shipments sent out distinctively as fall pack. [illegible] total sent out in the past twelve months [illegible] just about what the 1885 pack was supposed to be, fall pack excluded. At the first of the present year the Columbia and Tillamook pack was stated to have been [illegible] cases, and an estimate to this effect was made through this column. The actual shipment, fall pack included, has been [illegible] cases. The directions in which the pack was distributed show a considerable change from previous seasons. San Francisco took [illegible] cases less, the east 28,203 cases more and England 101,069 less of the 1885 pack than of the 1884 pack. As there was a falling off of 81,123 cases in the quantity shipped direct shipments to England may be said to have suffered relatively less than is apparent. There has been a loss at sea of 17,[illegible] cases by the Haddingtonshire of the 1885 pack. The balance of the foreign shipment amounting to 19[illegible],251 cases arrived safely at destinations. This loss reduces the quantity actually marketed [illegible] cases. Of the 1884 pack [illegible] cases were lost at sea by the Perthshire and the Kirkwood, reducing the marketed quantity of the 1884 pack to [illegible] cases. The following statement shows the outward shipments hence for twelve months ended March 31, 1886:

The Next Best Thing

"Madame," said a polite passenger in a crowded street car from his comfortable seat to a lady who was preserving her balance with difficulty, "permit me to—"

"Oh, thank you sir," replied the lady sweetly as she prepared to sit down.

"Er—as I was about to say—permit me—ah—to call your attention to that strap."

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Forty-three deeds were filed for record with the county clerk during the past week of an aggregate value of $[illegible]. The mortgages recorded during the same period foot up $[illegible], and those released $[illegible].

The business for the week just closed shows an increase in the number of deeds and a falling off in value of $[illegible] as compared with that of the week previous, but this rather marked decline is in great measure owing to the [illegible] of a few deeds which ought to have appeared in this week's report. The transfers for the month of March foot up $[illegible]. The mortgages recorded during the same period foot up $[illegible].

The main feature of the week's business was the sale at public auction of the quarter block corner of Third and Washington streets owned and occupied by the First Presbyterian Church society. [illegible] bidders were in [illegible] the property was knocked down to [illegible] at $[illegible]. The price realized [illegible] less than the best offer [illegible].

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER.

The great popularity of this preparation, after its test of many years, should be an assurance, even to the most skeptical, that it is really meritorious. Those who have used HALL'S HAIR RENEWER know that it does all that is claimed.

It causes new growth of hair on bald heads—provided the hair follicles are not dead, which is seldom the case; restores natural color to gray or faded hair; preserves the scalp healthful and clean of dandruff; prevents the hair falling off or changing color; keeps it soft, pliant, lustrous, and causes it to grow long and thick.

HALL'S HAIR RENEWER produces its effects by the healthful influence of its vegetable ingredients, which invigorate and rejuvenate. It is not a dye, but a delightful article for toilet use. Containing no alcohol, it does not evaporate quickly and dry up the natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and brittle, as do other preparations.

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS

Colors them brown or black, as desired, and is the best dye, because it is harmless, produces a permanent natural color, and, being a single preparation, is more convenient of application than any other.

Contagious!

I am a native of England, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood poison, and for two years was under treatment as an outdoor patient at Nottingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I suffered the most agonizing pains in my bones, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. Finally I completely lost all hope in that country, and sailed for America, and was treated at Roosevelt in this city, as well as by a prominent physician in New York having no connection with the hospitals. I saw the advertisement of Swift's Specific, and I determined to give it a trial. I took six bottles and I can say with great joy that they have cured me entirely. I am as sound and well as I ever was in my life.

L. FRED HALFORD.

New York City, June 12th, 1885.

In March of last year (1884) I contracted blood poison, and being in Savannah, Ga., at the time, I entered the hospital for treatment. I suffered very much from rheumatism at the same time. [illegible] get well under the treatment there [illegible] any of the usual [illegible] Swift's Specific [illegible] and am now well. [illegible]
